Here an excerpt:

"It's hard to find the dance this year. On the stump Barack Obama shows pleasure, a lower form of the dance. So does Republican Rep. Mike Pence, who says he's a conservative 'but not in a bad mood about it.' John McCain can dance. In one week he wowed college kids on 'Hardball,' bopped Hillary Clinton, and announced that if Republicans lose Congress he'll 'commit suicide.' Translation: I love Republicans, and if they lose I'll be fine!"

To read the full column, click here .