Congressman Pence's Communications Director, Matt Lloyd, visited the new National World War II Memorial and Reunion this weekend. What he saw had a profound impact on he and his wife, Amy. Read Matt's firsthand account in his essay, "World War II Memorial Tells Story of Generational Differences."