

Fox News reported on the reaction on Capitol Hill to the Bush Administration's bailout plan and quoted Congressman Pence:

Rep. Mike Pence told FOX News he saw no reason to rush into a plan that had been properly evaluated.

"Don't accept it. Don't believe it. Whether I'm in Washington, DC or a used car lot. Anytime somebody tells me I've got to do the deal now, it usually means they're going to get the better part of deal ," said Pence, R-Ind.

"I understand that our financial markets are in turmoil and the president was right to call for decisive action. But nationalizing every bad mortgage in America is not the right answer ," he said.