In May, Congressman Pence congratulated Taylor Clark, winner of the 2010 Sixth District Congressional Art Competition. Taylor's winning entry is entitled Self Portrait, a small-grid artwork done in tempra paint. Taylor is a senior at Pendleton Heights High School and her art teachers are Mrs. Leila Robinson and Mr. Samson Hunkler.

Taylor is in Washington this week for a gala honoring all the student winners from across the country.