Cathy Stephens was recently named Teacher of the Year by the Indiana Computer Educators. Congressman Pence today congratulated Cathy in the letter below:

Dear Cathy,

It is my honor and privilege to congratulate you on receiving the Indiana Computer Educators 2010 Teacher of the Year Award. This honor is a testament to the commitment and dedication you have shown to making technology readily available to your students and staff.

Thank you for your nine years of service to Randolph Eastern School Corporation. I am appreciative of all that you have done for your students. You are an inspiration to your peers all over the great state of Indiana, especially those in your community.

I hope you are enjoying the rest and relaxation that comes with retirement. I look forward to hearing of your future success.

Sincerely,
Mike Pence
