The Washington Times is running an op-ed written by Congressman Mike Pence on the future of conservatism and the Republican Party. Congressman Pence writes,

*Republicans have an opportunity to redefine our party with humility, vision, policy alternatives and a willingness to fight for the priorities and values of everyday Americans.*The op-ed is available in its entirety
HERE
.