The Super Bowl Champion Indianapolis Colts were honored by President Bush at the White House today. Congressman Pence and his son Michael attended the ceremony on the South Lawn.

For WTHR's coverage, click here .

The White House website has the full text of President Bush's remarks here and an "Ask the White House" online chat with Colts Coach Tony Dungy
here
.

Labels: Indianapolis Colts , President Bush , Super Bowl