Congressman Pence has already announced his intention to seek federal emergency assistance for those suffering from ice storm damage. The Muncie Star Press has a great story summarizing the process. Pence will survey damage Monday.