Here's an excerpt from the Star Press editorial :

"Rep. Mike Pence, R-Ind., and his staff have done an admirable job in lining up 85 employers, representing jobs that include everything from banking and sales to health care and the Army National Guard, for today's event. The prize catch, however, has to be Honda, which is building an auto assembly plant near Greensburg. By all reports, interest has been extremely high in the company, which usually does much of its hiring through the Internet."
