

Today, I went to New Castle High School and spoke with an economics class. We talked about the economy and I listened to their thoughts and answered questions about Congress.

Below are a few photos from the afternoon. To see more photos, click here .

