

Congressman Pence today honored Sherry Stark of Columbus, who was recently awarded the 2010 Dick Johnson leadership award, given by the local March of Dimes chapter to honor leadership and involvement in the community. Stark is president and chief executive officer of the Heritage Fund of Bartholomew County. Congressman Pence's letter to Sherry follows:

September 7, 2010

Dear Sherry,

It is my honor and privilege to congratulate you on being awarded the 2010 Dick Johnson leadership award for service and commitment to the community. This honor is a testament to the commitment and dedication you have shown to Columbus and Bartholomew County.

I am encouraged to hear about all of the great works of service you have done in Bartholomew County. I can think of no one who deserves this award more than you. Your service and leadership not only benefits those in your community but everyone in the great state of Indiana.

Best wishes to you as you continue your service in Columbus. I look forward to hearing of your future success.

Sincerely,

Mike Pence
Member of Congress
Sixth District, Indiana
